

Staff in the department with PHDs

Name	PHD Research title
Ugasvaree Subramaney	Personality style, cortisol secretion and the inflammatory response to trauma exposure in a cohort of South African metro police cadets: a prospective, longitudinal study
Rita Thom	Depression and anxiety in HIV infected individuals attending HIV treatment facilities at various sites in South Africa: occurrence and related factors. A descriptive-analytic study
Shamima Saloojee	Metabolic Syndrome in patients with severe mental illness from South Africa
Danie Hoffman	The effect of SHIP (Spontaneous Healing Intrasytemic Process) on adolescent tennis players
Yael Kadish	Investigating defensive organisations and psychic retreats in anorexia
Elsabe Jordaan	A grounded theory of co-therapy
Liezl Ferreira	Postnatal depression and the evaluation of an integrated program
Maleny Naidoo	The impact of female empowerment on the relationship dynamics of black heterosexual married males and females in Gauteng, South Africa
Ora Gerber	Attachment styles, coping strategies, personal meaning, and mental health in nonclinical adults
Mojalefa Makgata	Experiences of three sexually monogamous women diagnosed with HIV in heterosexual marriage
Bareng Kenneth Motshwane	Evaluation of guidance-counselling services in secondary schools using South African education white paper 6 and ACSA quality performance standards